The democratic process in Iraq’s post-2003 between progress and retrogression

Abstract

Iraq is one of the state that lead by dictator system know as one party and one person after crashing this system the politics statues is change in irag to flow the democracy system and allow to multi parties established - freedom of opinion and journalism . this experience start in irag in 9.4.2003 so result the army government – civil government after that come the irages government like translation gov. temporary gov. and the immorelle gov. this study talks about the important and base steps for each period in irag . this experience faced some defectes and set bakes but the searchers found some maters if it done the experience will be succeed finely there is end and sources list .